Salt Lake City, UT 84111

Complainant,

v.

Merrill Cook
Merrill Cook for Congress Committee

Respondent,

ANSWER

MUR 4621

R.T. Nielson Company ("Nielson") responds to the Complaint in the above-referenced matter as follows:

1. The Complaint charges that the named respondents violated the Federal Election Campaign Act ("FECA") by failing to settle a disputed debt owed R.T. Nielson and failing to report said debt, resulting in respondents accepting impermissible loans or contributions.
2. No response.
3. The named respondents are Merrill Cook and Merrill Cook for Congress Committee. Nielson is not a named respondent.
4. Admitted upon information and belief.
- 5.. Admitted upon information and belief.
6. Denied. Nielson provided consulting and other services to the respondents with the expectation and agreement to be paid therefor. Respondents have failed to pay Nielson as agreed. Nielson denies providing said services as a loan or contribution to the named respondents. Indeed, it reported its concerns regarding the respondents' failure to pay Nielson and failure to properly report or treat said failure to the FEC to preclude any supposition that Nielson was in league with respondents in committing said apparent violations. (See, Ex. A)

7. Admitted.

8. Admitted.

9. Admitted that Nielson managed and consulted the respondents' congressional campaign. Denied that Nielson had any responsibility regarding respondents' compliance with FECA requirements.

10. Admitted upon information and belief.

11. Admitted upon information and belief that respondents have failed to properly report and treat their indebtedness to Nielson as required by FECA and that said failures may constitute a violation of FECA by respondents. Denied that said failures, being solely attributable to respondents' acts, errors, or omissions, constitute and illegal campaign loan or contribution or other FECA violation on the part of Nielson.

12. No response, except that any acts, errors, or omissions constituting a violation of FECA are solely attributable to respondents.

I, Ron T. Nielson , President of R.T. Nielson Company, being first duly sworn, affirm that the contents of this answer are true to the best of my knowledge.
